Czech Republic	Masaryk University is opened for all students and teachers from Ukraine. We are ready for them and their families, we will provide accommodation and everything. There is no official program at the moment. Well, we do not need any program to help.	Michael Radvan michal.radvan@law.muni.cz
Denmark	Copenhagen Business School (CBS LAW) can provide offices for up to two PhD students or professors from Ukraine. This includes access to CBS' library, various databases etc. Unfortunately, they cannot pay any salary or provide accommodation. Even though CBS as an institution currently cannot provide accommodation and financial support, the employees of CBS' Tax Law Group would be happy to try personally assisting Ukrainian scholars in applying for (free/cheap) accommodation in Denmark and financial support from other sources to the extent possible. Copenhagen Business School is in the process of setting up a procedure for helping Ukrainians with accommodation and financial support. However, this measure has not been finalized/approved yet. More information will follow later when this initiative (hopefully) has been approved.	Peter Koerver Schmidt pks.jur@cbs.dk
